Council Rules vs. Planning Board In Schultz Case

Last night the city council, with one dissenting vote, overruled the planning commission's denial of a building permit to Dorothy and Charles Schultz for a retail-stores-with-apartments-upstairs building on the northwest corner of Junipero and Sixth Street.

The planning commission had denied the permit on the grounds that the Schultzes' proposed uses would not be compatible with the designated uses of the zone (commercial service and light industry—dairies, laundries, cabinet shops, etc.) Under the existing ordinance, businesses and residences are allowed in addition to commercial services and light industry.

The planning commission, with the expressed intention of freezing the C-2 zone to commercial services and light industry only; in the new zoning ordinance, exercised its powers under the interim ordinance in denying the permit. The Schultzes, represented by Attorney Louis Moore, appealed the decision to the city council, which has been mulling over the matter for three hearings.

When the council arrived at its decision last night, there was very little discussion of the merits of the case, which had been thrashed out in previous meetings, the Schultzes backed by all the other property owners in the C-2 zone with the exception of Councilman Francis Whitaker. Last night's complication was on the subject of whether or not the council should vote on the simple motion of overriding the planning commission's decision or on a motion which would carry a rider to spell out for the planning commission a line of policy for the future of C-2. Since the council was not clear as to how far they wanted to go in defining policy at that moment, they decided to vote on the simple motion, proposed by John Chitwood: "The Schultz building does not constitute an incompatible use in Zone C-2."

Francis Whitaker voted no, then explained his reason to the Schultzes' lawyer, "I felt that the council should have arrived at a policy for uses in Zone C-2 before acting on this application," he said.

From the comments at the meeting, it appears that several of the councilmen favor restricting C-2 to commercial services and light industry, and to buildings with stores on the first floor, apartments above.

"We don't want a motel row along Junipero," said Mayor Horace Lyon. "As I envisage Junipero in Zone C-2, it can become a very attractive street, with stores-apartment units, with planting and trees."

The council set October 16 for a meeting with the planning commission to discuss C-2 policy.

On the advice of City Attorney Thomas Perry, Police Commissioner John Chitwood moved that the application for a transfer of location of the on sale liquor license of the Monterey Development Company (Hearthstone on Ocean Avenue) be not protested to the Alcoholic Beverages Control Board "because the council sees no legal grounds, as the transfer would not

PTA-Girls League Carnival A Fall Affair This Year

The Girls League-High School PTA scholarship Carnival will be held on October 20. Four projects are being undertaken by the PTA to match funds raised by the Girls League to provide scholarships for two graduating seniors.

The PTA will serve lunch in the High School Cafeteria that Saturday under the management of Mrs. Walter Stuefloten. Mrs. Charles Leavitt is in charge of the PTA booth selling Christmas ornaments, gifts and Christmas and Hallowe'en decorations and handmade candles. Cut flowers and plants will again be sold in a PTA booth under the direction of Mrs. C. W. Paul. The baked goods booth is the project being organized by Mrs. Adrian Bennett. All other booths will be run by Girls League members.

The Carnival is an annual event, usually held in the spring, but this year no date was available for the affair later in the year, so it will be held in two weeks' time. Volunteer help is needed.

Citizens, Officials Testify At Hearing On New Liquor Store

Attorneys will present briefs to the alcohol beverage control board on the application of the Carmel zoning ordinance to the proposed location of an off sale "package goods" liquor store at the rear of the Walt Pilot Grocery Store parking lot. Umpire E. M. McDonald representing the ABC board requested the briefs following a three hour hearing in city hall Tuesday morning.

The city maintains that the location in that place would violate the ordinance which confines sale of liquor to Ocean Avenue. Exception is made in the case of businesses which handle liquor in conjunction with or subordinate to other business, such as grocery and drug stores. The proposed store would be primarily a liquor store, though the applicants, Paul Chedester and Robert Aebersold testified that they would also sell bar supplies, gourmet goods, and operate a magazine and newspaper stand. They have another store, the Pink Elephant in Monterey, which they will continue to operate there. The license they wish transferred is one they bought from The Green Dragon in Salinas. Aebersold and Chedester were represented by Attorney Carmel Martin, Jr.

Those who testified for the city were: Former Mayor Allen Knight,

Some People Race Horses, Frogs, Crickets, Elephants John Scott Fancies Pigeons

By Bob Kaller

For those men who find the breeding and racing of thoroughbreds or greyhounds a little hard on the pocketbook, the ancient sport of pigeon racing has become a top source of popular interest since World War II.

Flying entries over courses from 100 to 1000 miles long, this group of men (and women) now numbers in the hundreds of thousands. One of the leaders of the local group in Carmel is John Scott.

Scott, who first came to the Carmel area way back in 1929, was originally from Sheridan, Wyoming, where his people owned a ranch. After schooling in Sheridan, John went to work dude ranching, an occupation that he found arduous but fascinating. He came to Carmel on a vacation the first time and promptly ran into Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps who owned a nationally famous stable of show horses at the time, on the site of what is currently the Mission Ranch.

Next thing Scott knew, he was working for Mrs. Phelps. After a year at her place in Newport, R.I., he returned to Carmel and ran the Phelps stables here till 1935, preparing and showing her hackneys, steeplechasers, etc.

By 1935 the lure of the cow country became strong again and he returned to Wyoming for another try at dude ranching. This was followed by several years

PADRES WIN DOUBLE-HEADER AT LIVE OAK

With both teams exploding for five touchdowns, the Carmel High varsity and junior-varsity squads racked up a double win at Morgan Hill last Friday afternoon in the opening league games of the current season. The junior-varsity ran and passed for a convincing 32-0 win while the Padre varsity coasted to a 32-6 victory. Live Oak, in their second year of competitive football, found the going rough against the hard-hitting Padres who gained over 400 yards in both games.

Coach Rainer's junior-varsity opened up a 12-0 lead in the first half as Bert Macahilig and Rodney Phillips zipped for long scoring dashes behind the excellent downfield blocking of Hal Gregerson and Robin Way. In the second half, the elusive Macahilig hit pay dirt twice on a pair of long-gainers off the tricky Rainer Reverse. While the Padrecito offense moved effectively against the inexperienced Acorns, it was the stubborn defense thrown up by Mike Raggett, George Blanks, Al Eaker, Hal Gregerson, and Bob Goldwater which throttled the Live Oak offense and gave the Little Padres ball control.

Carmel's varsity broke the game open in the first half as Charley Dawson engineered four touchdown marches from his quarterback position. The fast-improving signal caller sent the Padres back through the middle and around the flanks to thoroughly riddle the nine-man front set up by the Oaks. Using a pair of hard-running halfbacks, Jack Faia and Tim O'Shea, to skirt the ends and powering through the middle with Clyde Klaumann and Andy Gray, quarterback Dawson sprinkled this running attack with enough passes to keep the secondary loose. The Padres hit for a touchdown the first time they had the ball when a series of keeper plays ate big chunks of yardage to set up a four-yard scoring plunge by Clyde Klaumann, Carmel fullback. The red-clad Carmel eleven came back with a rush on the second offensive drive as Jack Faia and Tim O'Shea moved the ball 55 yards in six plays. Most of the yardage was gained on wide pitchouts around the knifing Live Oak ends. Tim O'Shea powered inside tackle for the final three yards and the touchdown. Dawson's kick was true and the Padres were in front, 13 to 0, in the first quarter. Carmel hit the scoreboard twice in the second period as Dawson and Faia teamed up for the tallies.

Live Oak struck for a touchdown in the third quarter as Dennis Condray, a swift bruising fullback, powered off tackle from the Padre six-yard line. The Oaks got in scoring position when they recovered a Carmel fumble on the ten-yard line. Condray turned in a fine football performance for Live Oak, spearheading the Oak offense and doing a fine job of backing up the riddled loser's line. This lad could be the best fullback in the B division and will certainly rate consideration when the all-league selections are made.

While the Padres looked good in spots against the out-manned Oaks, they will have to improve in the tackling and downfield-blocking department if they expect to beat the rugged Gonzales Spartans tomorrow night.

CARMEL FOOTBALL TEAMS AT GONZALES FRIDAY NIGHT

The turning point in the current football season faces the varsity and junior-varsity grid squads of Carmel High this Friday night when they journey to Gonzales for a double-header with the fast and rugged Spartan teams. Doped by expert pickers as the second best team in the B division (Hollister is first), Gonzales lived up to advance notices last Friday night at whipping the big Gilroy eleven, 13 to 6, in a rough rock and sock ball game. Gonzales also outscored King City in the CCAL Jamboree at the beginning of the season and the same King City squad clipped Pacific Grove Friday night. Equipped with blazing speed in both the

Some People Race Horses, Frogs, Crickets, Scott Fancies Pigeons

with the Visalia Stock Saddle Company in San Francisco, and a number of wartime years in the Army (where he never got near a horse, naturally).

In 1946 (as do all good pilgrims) he returned to Carmel to open a silver and leather shop and has been here ever since.

While Scott had always been generally interested in animals and in racing, his specific curiosity about pigeons was first aroused by several post-war visits to the Hearst Ranch at San Simeon where a number of experiments with birds was being carried on.

Then two years ago, Maurice Hannssens of Carmel Valley presented John with a pair of birds and soon he was knee deep in pigeons.

The pigeon Racing Club of the Peninsula is comparatively small, less than 20 members. Competition is fierce and the men work on various systems to speed up the birds. This includes showing the pigeons reflections of themselves in a mirror before a race, so that they become jealous of the bird they think is trying to steal their perch, and hurry home to protect it.

Another method is to use the old sex drive. Males are allowed to mate only after a race and their desire to get to that "cute little pigeon" leads them to fly all the faster.

Times are calculated in yards per minute for all the racers. Each flyer has a "pigeon timer", a clock in his possession. The birds are shipped out to the starting point by truck or train and then released. When a racer hits the finish line his owner quickly takes the band from the feathered competitor's leg and records the exact time on it with this clock.

Cost of the birds varies widely. It is possible to get a brace of racers for as little as $10. On the other hand many a famous set of birds have been sold for $1000 and more. One man at Gilroy is reputed to have paid as much as $2000 recently for some imported stock.

A good pigeon will average almost a mile a minute over a long course, covering some 600 miles or more from dawn to dark. The racers still don't know how a homing pigeon finds his way back. No acceptable scientific explanation has ever been found. Occasionally, the instinct will fail and whole groups of birds will disappear. Radar has been blamed for upsetting many birds, but no one has proved this to date. The number one enemy of the racing pigeon is still the hawk. If a man can keep his birds away from the winged killers, his chances of a homer getting back to the loft safely is very good.

As with any racing sport, the amount of money bet in recent years on the races has mounted at a tremendous rate — and pools (just like on football and basketball) are now common.

For John Scott and the other pigeon fanciers on the Peninsula the lure of the birds lies not in cash, but in working with the miracle of nature that enables a small courier to be released a third of the way across the Continent and yet find its way unerringly back to its perch and loft at a tremendous speed. That is a thrill all by itself.

backfield and line, the Spartans are breakaway threats from any position on the field. With three-year letterman, Wayne Handley, at the quarterback spot, the Spartans have an engineer who knows how to use the throttle and get the most out of the quick-breaking halfbacks.

Carmel has no hopes of matching Gonzales in the speed department but the hard-trying Padres have a well-balanced attack and a solid defense to counter the Spartan speed. The Padres will take the field with an offensive unit averaging 164 pounds. At the ends Pat Harney and Don Smith; tackles Paul Prince and Bob Leidig; guards Joe Mason and Neil Giarratana; center Parker Pollock; halfbacks Jack Faia and Tim O'Shea; fullback Clyde Klaumann; and quarterback Charley Dawson. The defensive lineup will be: ends Bob Durbrow and Art Wilkerson; tackles Fred Nelson and Phil Durbrow; guards Mike Meheen and Joe Mason; linebackers Charley Dawson and John Stiles; halfbacks Clyde Klaumann and Jack Faia; and Tim O'Shea at safety.

In the 6:15 preliminary game, Coach Buzz Rainer will send his junior-varsity squad after their second straight league victory gainst the favored Gonzales limiteds. The Little Spartans clobbered the Gilroy junior-varsity last Friday night and appeared to be a carbon copy of the fast-hitting Gonzales varsity. Coach Rainer will send out a starting unit of Robin Way, Phil White, Hal Gregerson, Jim Bannerman, Mike Raggett, George Blanks, Allan Eaker, Jon Stuefloten, Bert Macahilig, Rodney Phillips, and Bob Goldwater. In last week's game at Live Oak, the running of Macahilig and Phillips gave the Little Padres a big lift and a repeat performance at Gonzales could see an upset in the making.

Friday night's junior-varsity game gets underway at 6:15 with the varsity tilt slated for 8:00 o'clock.

Church Women Hear Of Successful County Foster Homes Policy

Care in foster homes is the best solution for children from broken homes who come under the supervision of the county welfare department, Mrs. H. R. Youngman of that department told the Monterey Peninsula United Church Women at their first fall meeting last Friday.

The women gathered at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel with the president, Mrs. C. A. Borchers in charge. Business and reports preceded box lunch in the social room, with the program at 1:30, a panel discussion on Young People in Need. Dr. Margaret Swigart was moderator.

The state requires careful inspection of all foster homes, with emphasis on the personality, character and genuine interest in the young persons on the part of the foster parents. Homes for teen agers are more difficult to find than for younger children because the older ones have come to believe they're not wanted and often fail to cooperate in the program. If one does not fit in one home after a fair trial, he or she is sent to another, always with an eye to the home atmosphere and love for youth. With 87 such boarding homes in this county in 1952, the program has expanded to 200. Mrs. Youngman, whose work is on the Monterey peninsula, described a number of cases and the efforts made to help the youths to adjust themselves to society.

Len Humphreys of the county probation department outlined the efforts to straighten out those who get into real trouble and may need to be assigned to institutional care or to the California Youth Authority. The emphasis is still on building a right attitude toward authority and society, and guidance toward good citizenship, but it often involves action in the juvenile court. The youth is never treated as a criminal, but rather a friendly, parental attitude is maintained. The afternoon discussion, with questions and answers, covered a good part of the county program.

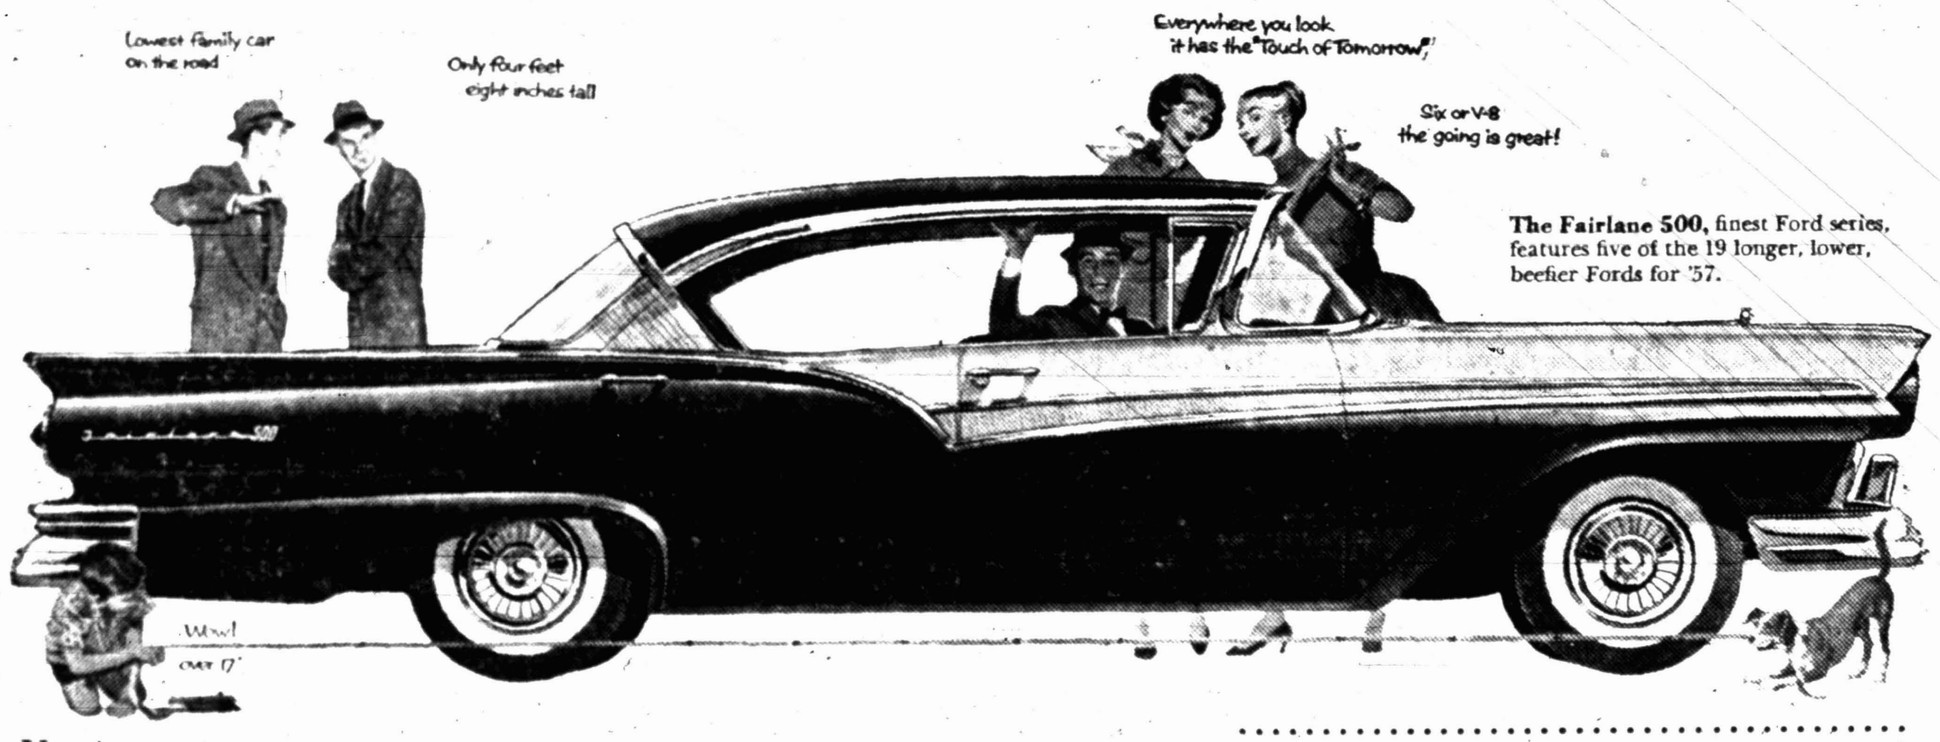
came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low . . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch . . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow



Lowest family car on the road
Only four feet eight inches tall
Everywhere you look it has the "Touch of Tomorrow!"
Six or V-8 the going is great!
Wow! over 17'

The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Fords library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's, with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six, with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

IN TWO NEW SUPER SIZES

OVER 16 FT. LONG On a new 116" Wheelbase — 3 Custom Models; 2 Custom 300 Models

OVER 17 FT. LONG On a New 118" Wheelbase — 4 Fairlane Models; 5 Fairlane 500 Models

PLUS 5 NEW MODELS IN THE STATION WAGON SERIES

The Fairlane Fords for '57, like the Fairlane 500 models, have no equal . . . no counterpart, in the low-price field.

Why the Oil Conservation Act will

KEEP GAS PRICES DOWN

● Why does Oil Conservation mean gasoline price protection for motorists?

● Why will Proposition 4, the Oil Conservation Act, help keep gas prices down?

—Because conservation of California's irreplaceable oil resources means stopping waste in the production of oil. It means getting every last drop of oil from the ground that it is possible to get by modern, scientific recovery methods.

—Because Proposition 4—by providing urgently needed Oil Conservation legislation—will double the production of oil from California fields.

—Because a plentiful supply of low-cost California oil is the best possible guarantee against drastic increases in the service-station price of gas.

IF YOU DRIVE A CAR, you are vitally concerned over the price of gasoline.

There are three pressures operating today in the direction of increased prices of gasoline. They are:

1. Greater expenditures by both the Federal and State governments for improved highways and freeways—financed by higher taxes on every gallon of gas you buy.

2. The Suez Canal crisis and Middle East unrest—foreshadowing demands on American oil to fill Western European needs.

3. The constantly increasing horsepower of automobile motors—requiring gasoline with higher and higher octane content.

The great, pocket-book importance of Proposition 4 to motorists is that it will provide an important counter-pressure to these rising price trends—by greatly increasing the supply of low-cost California crude oil.

TODAY, CALIFORNIA IS AN "OIL DEFICIT" STATE—we use more oil and gasoline than we produce.

Yet, today, only half the oil that can be recovered is being recovered—the other half remains in the ground, tragically wasted, for want of proper Oil Conservation procedures.

Proposition 4 provides the legal framework to make it possible to recover that presently wasted half of our producible oil resources. It will replace scarcity with plenty—adding a whopping 4 billion barrels to our known, recoverable oil reserves.

Best of all, the additional oil that will be produced from existing fields will be relatively inexpensive oil—because huge discovery, drilling and investment costs are not needed to produce it.

By providing a new, important source of low-cost California crude oil, Proposition 4 will help keep gasoline prices down!

● THESE COMPANIES SERVE THE MOTORIST: The major, integrated oil companies (with only one exception)—the companies that not only produce oil, but refine it and distribute it to the public—support Proposition 4. Their interest is in volume production and distribution of gasoline at reasonable prices.

Have you read "The Case of California's Disappearing Oil"? Ask for it at your service station or news stand.

● THESE COMPANIES DO NOT SERVE THE MOTORIST: On the other hand, the interest of the large-scale, multi-million dollar "independents" who are opposed to Proposition 4 is in higher prices. They are simply producers of crude oil and do not serve the motoring public. They are currently agitating for higher prices for crude oil.

● THE MOTORIST'S INTEREST, THE PUBLIC INTEREST, YOUR INTEREST — CLEARLY IS IN BOOSTING SUPPLIES OF LOW-COST CALIFORNIA OIL, AND KEEPING GASOLINE PRICES DOWN, BY ENACTMENT OF PROPOSITION 4.

Vote YES on Proposition 4

"If ever a measure for public decision by ballot could be called a motorists' measure, it is Proposition 4."--The Kingsburg Recorder.

NATIONAL PARKS AND FORESTS

I have just received the 1956 edition of a 4-page folder issued jointly by the National Park Service and the U. S. Forest Service, giving facts about the national park system and the national forests. I commend this to every taxpayer and voter for careful study. It furnishes the basis for information on most of the controversial issues that arise in the field of conservation of our natural resources. A post-card to the National Park Service or the U. S. Forest Service in Washington would bring a copy, I am sure.

The outstanding reason why everyone should be interested in these questions is that the total combined area of the national parks and forests in this country is slightly over 200 million acres. This is roughly about twice the size of the state of California. Every person in the United States is, or will be, a joint owner of this property. The government agencies that administer it do so at the will of the voters, as expressed through their representatives in Congress.

By consulting the side-by-side statements about these units of our national government one can not only get the main informational facts at a glance but it is possible to understand quickly and easily the main differences between them. They can be summarized in a nut-shell by saying that the national parks, administered by the Department of the Interior, are intended to preserve nature as created, while the national forests, administered by the Department of Agriculture, are intended, with one exception, to provide for the commercial development of their resources in the public interest.

This one exception is a very important one and in my opinion is not given sufficient space in the folder. A very brief paragraph on the back page reads: "Wilderness and Wild Areas, 79 in all, have been set aside in national forests to be permanently maintained in their primitive status. Accessible only by trail or water, they are almost completely undeveloped and free of nearly all artificial influences".

This makes these areas very nearly the equivalent of the national parks, in so far as protection of their scenic features is concerned. In fact, in some ways they are better protected than the national parks, because no roads may be built in them, except to provide access to mining claims, whereas roads may be built anywhere in the national parks on the decision of the Director. Moreover there are some 14 million acres of these Wilderness and Wild Areas out of 181 million in all the national forests, a not inconsiderable proportion.

Many of the current controversies in the conservation field revolve around administrative decisions made, or to be made, by the Forest Service in regard to the boundaries of the present Wilderness Areas or in regard to setting aside new sections of the national forests for Wilderness Areas. It is very important that we, the public, the actual owners of these forests, should be adequately informed on the various questions involved in these controversies.

Sunset Students Now City Planners

Joe Broadman, art instructor for the Carmel elementary schools, informed the Pine Cone this week that the Seventh and Eighth Grade students at Sunset are doing city planning in art classes.

"Most believe that Carmel, like other cities, goes through three stages continually: growth, decay and renewal," says Broadman.

"They also believe in greenbelts," he concludes.

HENRY MEADE WILLIAMS CONGRATULATES WRITERS

When versatile author Mona Williams of Carmel spoke before the California Writers Club last week, her husband, Henry Meade Williams, was on an assignment in Richmond, Virginia. Knowing that Mrs. Williams does not have time to make speeches, her husband was delighted when he found out she had accepted an invitation to speak before the club. So he sent the following telegram to Nelo Drizari, president of the club:

"Congratulations for securing Mona Williams as speaker. May success be with your club throughout the year."

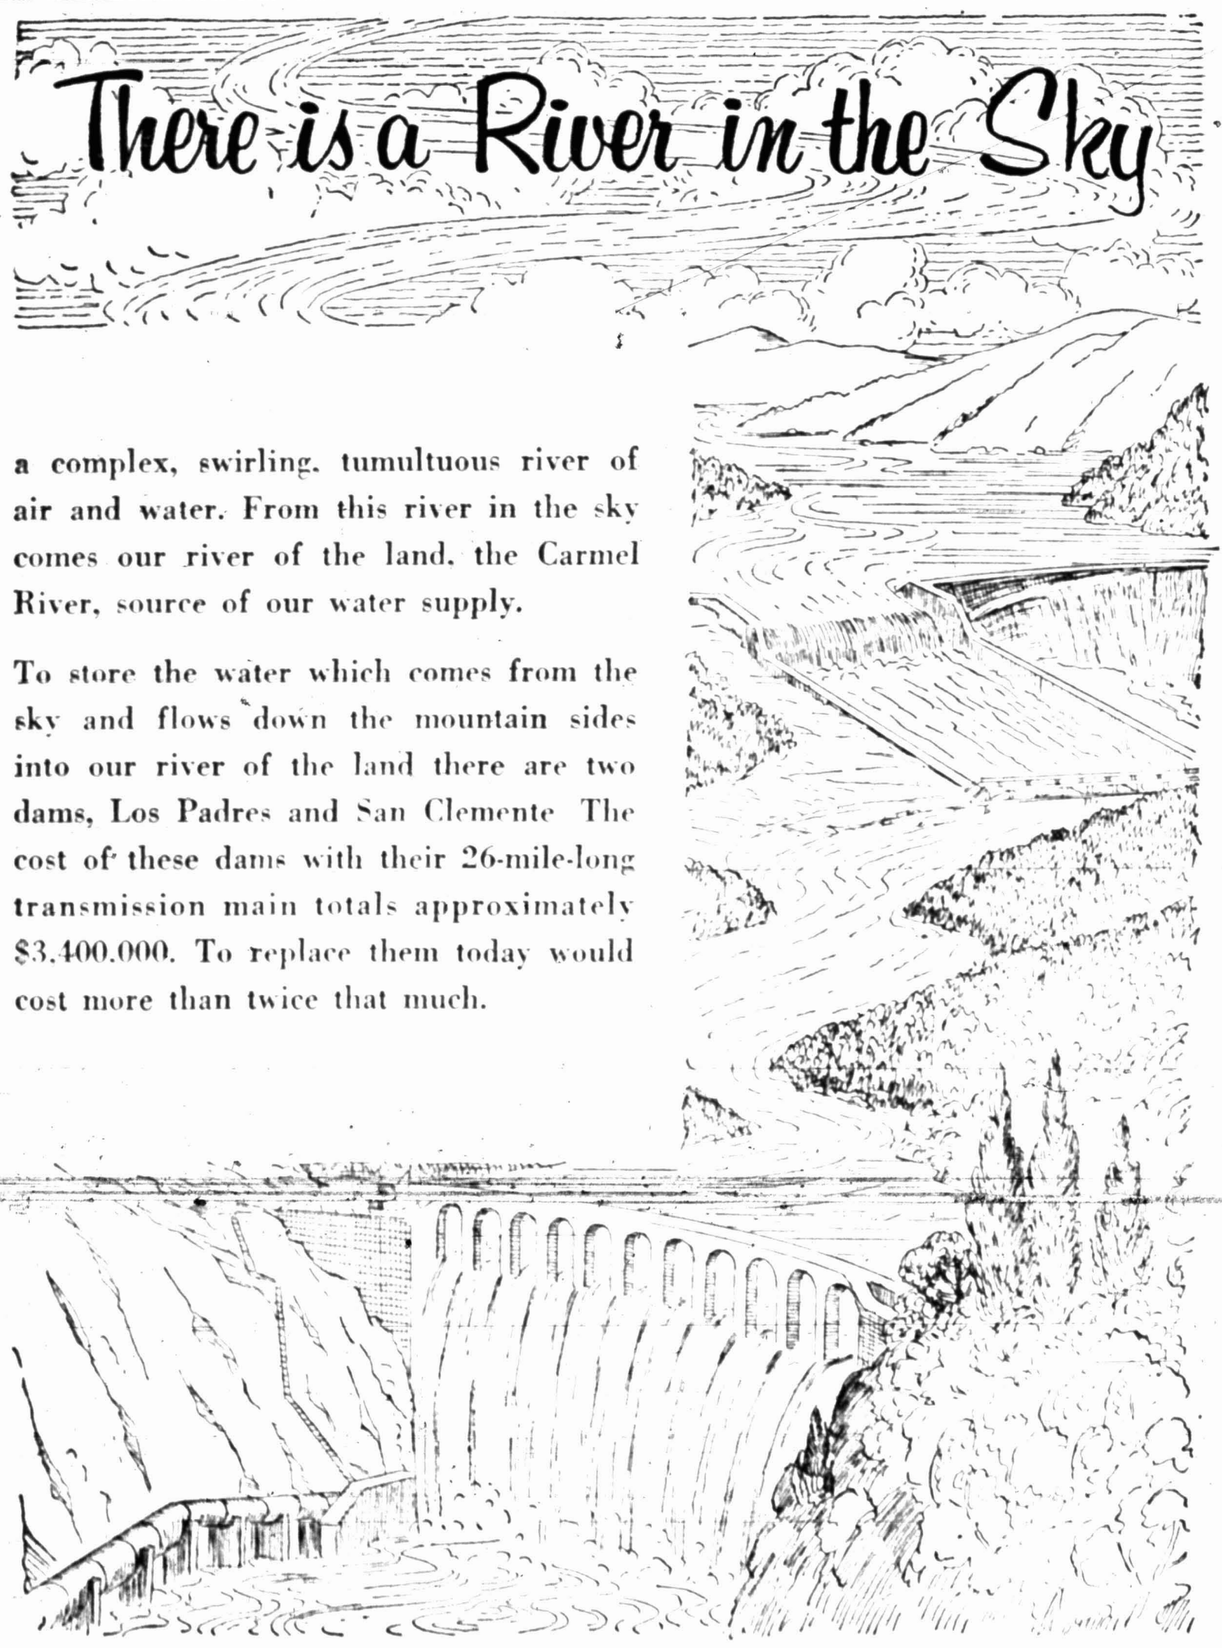
There is a River in the Sky



a complex, swirling, tumultuous river of air and water. From this river in the sky comes our river of the land, the Carmel River, source of our water supply.

To store the water which comes from the sky and flows down the mountain sides into our river of the land there are two dams, Los Padres and San Clemente. The cost of these dams with their 26-mile-long transmission main totals approximately $3,400,000. To replace them today would cost more than twice that much.

The Time Has Come .

By Kippy Stuart

Now is the time to get bulb-minded. Both the new bulbs and the old bulbs. Our first responsibility is to our late summer flowering bulbs, gladiolus, and tuberous begonias. Both are practically through and call for special attention. Glads should be left in the ground until the leaves have turned yellow. Raise them carefully, and save all the baby bulbs that are clinging to the parent bulb. Clean them carefully, with fingers, never with tools; dust them thoroughly with insect-resisting powder, and store them in paper bags that have been perforated, for air. Oh, I forgot. Clippers will be needed to cut the bulb from the old stems.

Tubers are treated differently. Tubers, also, should be left in the ground, or in container, until the stems yellow and droop. Lay them in some dark place that is protected from wind. When the stems have fallen off of their own accord, raise the tubers, carefully remove old roots, and repeat process for glads.

The color catalogues from nurseries are already flooding homes. Why is it that no gardener is ever capable of producing plants, seeds or bulbs that even resemble the horticulturist's representation? I dunno. I've given up trying to keep track of all the new hybrids that come our way and find myself content with the old and tried varieties.

I go for the Dutch iris. These bulbs need no special care and can be left in the ground for years. I have one patch of Dutch iris that has been with me for ten years. In the Spring that bed is a galaxy of color. When the leaves die back in the early summer, the bed doubles for godetia, clarkia and a number of other annuals. That bed is a constant blaze of color and the annuals, on top of the Dutch iris, do not harm the bulbs. Any other variety of bulb could not stand the constant watering in the summer, but nothing seems to halt, or harm the beauty, year after year, of Dutch iris.

I find that daffodils can be treated in the same way; leave them in the ground. I believe this is called "naturalizing" bulbs, for they increase themselves to an astonishing degree. Another quality of daffodils is that gophers eschew their distasteful quality and leave them entirely alone. Tulips are another thing; gophers dine on tulips-de-luxe. The only safe way to raise tulips is to "basket" them, by placing wire in the hole before planting the tulip.

Marian Stebbins

Mrs. Marian Long Stebbins died on Saturday morning in her home at Junipero Street and Rio Road after a long period of failing health. She had been a Carmel resident for three years.

For 30 years Mrs. Stebbins was a member of the faculty of Mills College. She retired in 1946 as head of the speech and drama department. Mrs. Stebbins was also appointed acting president of Mills College by Dr. Amelia Reinhardt during the times that Dr. Reinhardt was absent from her presidential duties.

Mrs. Stebbins had a keen appreciation of her students and maintained friendships with them long after they had graduated from Mills. She was interested in all forms of dramatic art and took an active interest in the development of drama in this country.

Mrs. Stebbins was born in Sacramento 74 years ago. After her retirement she made her home in Palo Alto before coming to Carmel. She was a member of the Town and Country Club of San Francisco.

Survivors are two daughters, Miss Margaret Stebbins of Palo Alto and Mrs. Edith Jennings of Modesto; one son, Keith Stebbins of Healdsburg; a sister, Mrs. Jessica Faye of Carmel; and six grandchildren. Her husband, Elwyn Wilfred Stebbins died in 1950.

Funeral services, conducted by Chaplain George Hedley of Mills College were held on Monday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends so desiring may send memorial contributions in Mrs. Stebbin's name to the American Friends Service Committee, 1830 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

Frank Mayo

Lieutenant Commander Frank V. Mayo died unexpectedly of a heart attack on Saturday on the MSTS transport taking him to his new station at Hickam Field in Hawaii.

He was born in Bismarck, North Dakota, 46 years ago. For the past three years he had been living in Carmel at Lobos and Fourth Streets while stationed at the Naval Air Facility in Monterey.

Commander Mayo's wife, Freda, and two children, Shari and Frank Jr., were accompanying him to Hawaii. They were flown back to San Francisco by the Navy when the ship docked on Monday, arriving in California on Tuesday.

Bright new idea from P. G. & E...

Redecorate your living room with light!

The trick is balanced lighting: Flood your living room with soft, diffused light — enough light to cheer up gloomy corners, brighten colors, bring out the rich textures of lovely fabrics. Balanced lighting helps you look your loveliest, too!

Three steps to balanced lighting:

1. Count your lamps—have you enough? It takes 5 lamps to light the average living room (250 square feet). A single lamp lights just 50 square feet.

2. Check bulb sizes. Table lamps should have one or more bulbs totalling 150 watts; floor lamps should have bulbs totalling 300 watts.

3. Now comes the fun. Move lamps around till soft, diffused light fills room evenly . . . without harsh glare or shadows. Then sit back and enjoy it!

FREE! 30-page booklet gives full home lighting story! Free booklet contains 22 tested lighting recipes for better, brighter living in all the rooms of your home. Write, phone or drop by your nearest P. G. and E. office for "See your home in a new light."

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

A small book on one of the biggest jobs on earth, that's The American Presidency by James Rossiter. The book gives the reader an understanding of the powers, the limitations, and the problems of the presidency. Mr. Rossiter is a professor of government at Cornell University. He recounts the history of the office and gives an analysis of our past three presidents. In the thick of a presidential campaign, this book could hardly be more timely and important.

In somewhat the same field, we have American Politics in a Revolutionary World, by Chester Bowles. Published by the Harvard University Press, the text of the book is comprised of three lectures given at Harvard by Mr. Bowles in the series of Godkin Lectures on the Essentials of Free Government.

An informal history and a practical guide is Louise Dickinson Rich's new book The Coast of Maine. The thing about this book is that not only does Mrs. Rich know and love Maine, but she also writes beautifully, which rather makes the whole business worthwhile.

Professor Piccard, whose explorations stretch from the stratosphere to the floor of the ocean, has written a book called Earth, Sky, and Sea. He tells of the building of the stratospheric balloon, and of the bathyscaphe, and of his pioneering explorations in both. And speaking of the stratosphere, we have a book on the earth satellite which is to be launched next year. The title is Satellite, and it was written by Erik Bergaust and William Beller, both of whom are experts in aerodynamics and rocket-propellant research. This book is written for the person who is not an expert but who is interested in the fascinating developments which may be expected from launching from the earth of these tiny satellites.

A biography of His Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie I, of Ethiopia, is by Christine Sanford, and is entitled The Lion of Judah Hath Prevailed. Mrs. Sanford has lived in Addis Ababa for many years, being the wife of Brigadier-General Sanford, who has been connected with Ethiopia since 1913. Not only does Mrs. Sanford tell us of the life of Haile Selassie, but she also recounts the steps toward modernization which have been taken in his ancient kingdom. The pictures are most interesting and add to this book which was published on the occasion of His Imperial Majesty's Silver Jubilee.

For chess players who need professional help and advice, we have a complete manual of chess by L. A. Horowitz, and for people who are too fat we have The Complete Book of Low Calorie Cooking.

Four novels are ready for you next week. The Trumpet of God by David Duncan is based on the children's crusade of the middle ages. A novel of Nova Scotia is The Wings of Night by Thomas Raddall. There are also The Hunters by James Salter, and The Captain General by John Stevenson. And there are more books for next week, fourteen in all. Come in and have a look at them.

And by the way, when you put your name down for them, don't be fancy, be plain. And put your box number or your address no matter how many you sign for. They are ready for you at different times, and you'd be surprised how much time we waste looking up box numbers and trying to decipher your names. Gets kinda provoking, sometimes!

Decks Home From Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Deck came back from a three weeks' trip to Alaska on Friday. They visited in Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria before sailing on the Prince George through the inland passage to Alaska, where they stopped at Juneau, Skagway and Ketchikan.

"We saw lots of icebergs," says Mrs. Deck.

"I took lots of colored pictures," says her husband.

Now the Decks will stay home in Carmel until February when they are planning a Caribbean cruise.

Close, III, (Nancy McCarthy) announcing the birth of their second daughter, Kate Allison, at the Peninsula Community Hospital on September 26. Her weight was seven pounds, two ounces at birth. Kate Allison's older sister is Karen Ling and her grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. J. B. McCarthy of Carmel and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Close Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

June To Ecuador, Sibyl Chicago

"It's lonesome without the children," says Mrs. R. A. Kocher telling about the departure on Thursday of son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Judson Epling to Chicago, and the next day with Dr. Kocher, seeing son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harner, and their two children, Terry and Jimmie, fly from San Franicsco for a year in Ecuador. All of them had been spending three weeks with the Kochers at the Highlands.

Michael Harner completed examinations for his doctor of philosophy degree in anthropology at the University of California immediately before the Carmel vacation and is now off on a Henry and Grace Doherty Foundation grant to study the Macas tribe of Jivaro Indians in Ecuador on the upper Amazon. He is also going to tape record native songs of the tribe for Folkways records.

The Harners flew from San Francisco to Panama, then separated for a short time, June and the children continuing by air to La Paz, Bolivia, where they are now visiting Michael's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harner. Mr. Harner is doing public relations work at the American embassy in La Paz and both he and Mrs. Harner, who have spent the past two years in Boliva, are enjoying the visit with June and their two grandchildren.

While his family are in La Paz, Michael, is in Ecuador organizing his expedition and making preparations for his family to stay in Quito while he is away in the head hunting Jivaro Indian country.

"Isn't it amazing," says Mrs. Kocher, "that in one day's time the children were here and in Bolivia and Ecuador."

Off On World Trip

Mrs. Rhea Dively and Mrs. Ollie Lind leave San Francisco tomorrow on the President Polk for a four months' trip around the world. Hawaii is the travelers first stop, then on to Japan, China, Bali, Malaya, Ceylon, India and through the Red Sea to Italy and France. If travel through the Suez Canal is difficult, Mrs. Dively and Mrs. Lind will detour around Africa to reach the Mediterranean. They plan many side trips to out of the way spots where Mrs. Dively, director at Monterey's First Theater, will do research in drama and Mrs. Lind will add to her extensive travel experience.

The world trip ends in New York, "Where we will see all the Broadway shows," says Mrs. Dively.

Wayfarer Auxiliary

A woman's contacts and observations on a tour of Europe were entertainingly reported to the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon by Dorothea (Mrs. K. Fillmore) Gray. Largely avoiding the main-traveled routes and tourist centers, the family plus one, sometimes two, friends covered most of that country outside the Russian sphere in the five months from the last of April.

Visiting many homes in the British Isles, Mrs. Gray collected quaint sayings: "I'll tinkle you" (telephone), or "tootle you" (in my car); she found new foods, observed simple ways of life, and most of all, admired the cheerful way that women made the best of their privations caused by the war. The family met interesting people; the three Canadian girls who for a year had been hitchiking through Europe, carrying all their baggage in packs on their backs; the Bambino family, he—Italian, she—Danish, who, ignorant of each other's language, had to talk to each other in English—their three year old boy understood all three but scarcely spoke one.

For each country visited in their microbus Mrs. Gray gave pictures of the customs, way of life and spirit of the people. The tour was the fulfilment of a long-cherished dream made posible by a bequest from a friend and good wishes of their Carmel neighbors.

The Auxiliary meeting began with a luncheon served by Circle Four with Miss Maude Hook, chairman, with the program and business conducted by Mrs. C. W. Robinson, the president. Devotions on the Twenty-Third Psalm were given by Mrs. Henry Lacey, long a missionary in China. Three beautiful solos sung by Mrs. Douglas A. Graham accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Robinson were a delight to the group.

Artist Teague, past president of the Carmel Art Association, did a lot of painting on the trip.

Earthquake-typhoon Report

Katie Schlepp writes her friends in Carmel from Tokyo (letter dated October 1) "Tremendous earthquake this morning — knocked everything off the ledges, cracked building foundations and really shook Tokyo! Two days ago we had a fine typhoon and the roof nearly blew off our house.

"Festivals going on nearly every day for different things and its quite something to see elaborate preparations and all, and then processions marching up streets in pouring rain, all laughing and gay. They laugh at accidents of any kind."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

God's healing and redemptive power will be emphasized in Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (472:24-30): "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (67:1,2): "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

HERON AT TOWN HOUSE

Speaker at the next meeting of the Booklovers, at Carmel Foundation Town House on Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock will be Herbert Heron, who will tell about his play Pharoah. It was planned to present this play last summer at the Forest Theater, but difficulties in casting delayed the production. It will be staged next summer. One reason why Shakespeare did not write a play on the theme of Pharaoh is that a sonnet by Shelley (upon which Mr. Heron's play is based) was not written until about two centuries after Shakespeare's death.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, the Red Diamond Chorus from Fort Ord will give a program at Town House. Tea and a social hour will follow.

who was on the council when the ordinance, banning liquor stores from the fringe of the business zone, was passed. The purpose of this ordinance was to simplify police problems, Knight said. Carl Patnude and John Chitwood, present city council members, testified that a liquor store in that locality would increase the police load.

Others protesting on several grounds, namely that the location was too near the city park, which is used as a playground for Carmel kids, and that it is too near the New Presbyterian church (valid reasons for protest in the eyes of the ABC if the park or church are within 300 feet of the proposed location) were: Kenneth Brown, who testified he saw kids playing in the park every day; Harlan Ware, Alton Walker, H. C. Ireland, Mrs. William A. Love, Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, Mrs. Arlyn Petersen and Harry Porte.

An investigator for the ABC testified that the church and the park were more than 300 feet from the premises.

Miss Alice Seckels sought no legal grounds for her protest. She said her appeal was frankly emotional, that in such matters "we should listen to our hearts, and consider the effect on the morals of the young people who would pass by there at night and going on their way home from the Youth Center".

Moral considerations is a legal and valid grounds for protest, Umpire McDonald told her.

Senator Fred Farr represented the protesting citizens; City Attorney Tom Perry conducted the case for the city.

Council Rules vs. Planning Board In Schultz Case

The Monterey Development Company officers are Mark Thomas, president; John B. Geisen, vice president; Carmel C. Martin, Jr., secretary. The new location for their bar and restaurant is the bus and taxi station building on the northwest corner of Junipero and Sixth, across the street from the city park. The ordinance which confines liquor license to Ocean Avenue does not apply here, according to Attorney Perry, because the license comes among the exceptions which permit establishments outside the "zone" if the sale of liquor is accompanied by or subordinate to some other business activity. Thomas told the council that his restaurant business represented 70 percent of his income from the Hearthstone. He intends to extend the operation of his restaurant business in the new location so that he can serve 50 people at one time. His main entrance will be on Sixth street, opposite the city park. It will be the entrance to the bar. Restaurant patrons will pass through the bar to reach the diningroom in the rear.

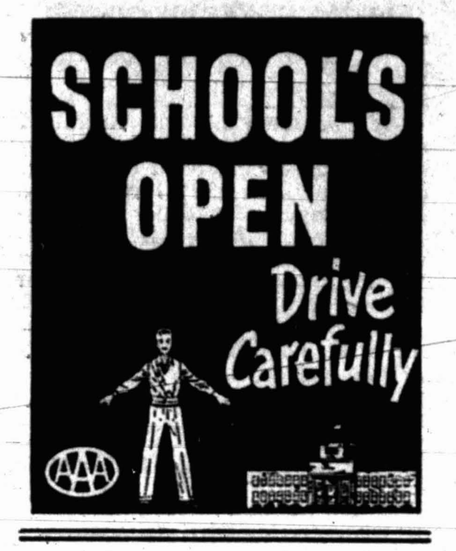
This is the first on sale liquor license to move from Ocean Avenue and will be the only one, with the exception of La Playa Hotel, not on Ocean Avenue.

Though the council chose to waive protest of the transfer on the basis of the city's zoning ordinance, City Attorney Perry told the Pine Cone this morning that the way is still open for the city council to protest on the state board's valid reasons, one of which is proximity to a church or a playground, another that the location would produce a police problem. There is a 30 day allowance for registering a protest and the council received its official notice on October 1.

A committee was appointed to meet with William Crawford to find out his price for the dunes property the planning commission recommended the council buy, "even if it means a bond issue." The committee: Jim Buffington, Francis Whitaker and Frank Putnam.

A committee of Whitaker and Buffington was appointed to meet with Tax Collector Arthur Plaxton to study revisions of the business license fees.

The Carmel Business Association's request for permission to trim a third Christmas tree on Ocean Avenue was denied on the grounds that Carmel did not wish to have a Christmas Tree Lane, that a second tree had been trimmed in front of the Library on the request of the business association though for years only one tree had been Carmel's traditional Christmas tree.



COMMUNITY CHEST COLLECTS $2,251

The Community Chest has collected $2,251 in the Carmel area since Monday when their annual fund raising drive started. So far the response in the business district has been slow, according to Mrs. Dorothy von Meier, in charge of the Carmel campaign office in the P. G. and E. building on Dolores street.

members. He also served as president of the association. During John O'Shea's term as president the large gallery was added to the building on Dolores Street and he spent many hours designing and planting the rock garden at the entrance to the galleries.

A versatile painter, with mastery of an extensive palette, John O'Shea painted the ocean, rocks and coast in strong, masterful style. Included in the show are some of his large marines and landscapes.

His Tahitian period is represented with pictures vivid in color, all typical of deep impressions of the people and their tropical surroundings.

The small portrait studies of Mexican people in the show are exceptionally fine, in mood, expression and technique. There is also a twisted Monterey cypress in the exhibition, one of John O'Shea's favorite subjects.

The memorial show emphasizes the timelessness of John O'Shea's work and those visiting the Beardsley Room this month will be pleased to have the opportunity of seeing his paintings once more in a carefully selected and inclusive exhibition.

CITY OFFICE CLOSED ON COLUMBUS DAY

The office of the City Clerk will be closed on Columbus Day, Friday, October 12, a legal holiday. As usual, most Carmel places of business will remain open but the merchants will put out their flags in the sidewalk wells, if somebody reminds them.
